

LAW OFFICES OF VIRGINIA C. NELSON

Virginia C. Nelson

When Virginia Nelson took her father's advice and became a trial lawyer, she discovered that the greater the challenge, the greater her motivation to succeed. "I feel very fortunate to continually find my work fascinating and rewarding," she says. "Each case is unique and presents an opportunity to completely immerse myself in a particular subject matter, whether it be legal, medical or technical."

Specializing in plaintiff personal injury with a focus on medical malpractice, Nelson has worked for 25 years to ensure her clients receive the finest in representation. She understands success in handling catastrophic damage claims demands an enormous amount of hard work, energy, and focus.

Nelson also knows that keeping abreast of technological advances gives her an edge in research, communication and presentation to the trier of fact. Even with these advances, one thing has not changed: the satisfaction in helping someone who has been severely injured go on to live as meaningful and productive a life as possible.

Her dedication has earned Nelson numerous honors. She is on the national board of the American Board of Trial Advocates and is a Fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers. She was the president of the San Diego County Bar Association, was selected as America's Finest City Lawyer of the Year, received the Bernard Witkin Award for excellence in the teaching, practice, enactment and adjudication of the law, and received the Broderick Award for civility, integrity and professionalism. She is routinely recognized as one of the top 50 women litigators in California and has been named as one of the Best Lawyers in America for the last 12 years.
